01 RECAP

Where this started, and where it is now.

01 Talk one: I hated content. February, 34 posts, 2.7 likes a post. Then I decided it mattered and started.

02 Talk two, July: the yap. One idea, one take, sixty seconds, phone out, post it.

03 Since then: posting, most weekdays, for 180 days. Reels from client calls, mostly money and pricing. Nothing dramatic for twenty-three weeks.

04 This month: the first one went. 43,300 views, 268 keyword comments, 180 DM contacts in a day, two members moved by it.

02 THE CHALLENGES

What made it hard, and the fix.

Deciding what to record

Standing in front of the phone with no idea. The decision is what stops the second video, not the camera.

The time

Editing, captions, copy for four platforms, scheduling. Done by hand it's an afternoon a week, and it's the first thing that slips.

Twenty-three quiet weeks

Views in the hundreds, likes in single figures, no sign the payout is coming. Most people stop here.

The fix: a loop that makes the decision for you, does the editing and publishing, and tells you what to record next. That's the next slide, then you build it.

The loop that now runs it.

Sign up on your laptop.

Code DEN 14-day free trial (usually 7) and 10% off

01 On your laptop: open the link. Create your account and enter the code DEN. Desktop is where the setup happens.

02 Then on your phone: scan the code. Download the Vubli app and sign in with the same account.

03 Stop there. We connect your accounts and record together.

05 LIVE

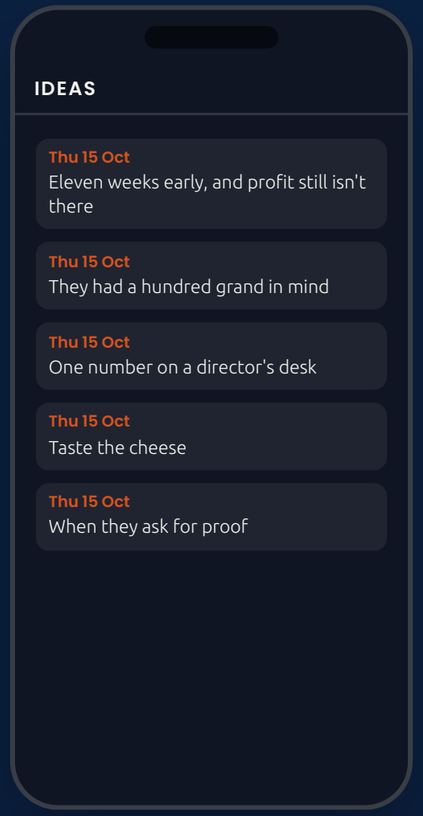

Idea to published reel, on the phone, now.

01 Ideas tab. This week's five scripts are already in. The AI wrote them Thursday from my calls.

02 Pick one. Prompter on. One take, about sixty seconds.

03 Vubli cuts, captions, writes the copy. I read the copy once.

04 Schedule. Instagram, Facebook, YouTube, LinkedIn. Tomorrow morning.

06 YOUR TURN, PART ONE

Generate your five scripts.

PASTE THIS INTO YOUR AI, WITH YOUR MATERIAL UNDER IT

Below are my last five client conversations (calls, emails, DMs). Find the five problems they keep bringing up. For each one write a sixty-second talk-to-camera script, about 150 words, one idea only, in my words, opening with a line that would stop someone scrolling and closing with a question back to the viewer. Add a seven-word on-screen line for each. No selling. No client names.

Keep them open. They go into Vubli as ideas on the next slide.

07 YOUR TURN, PART TWO

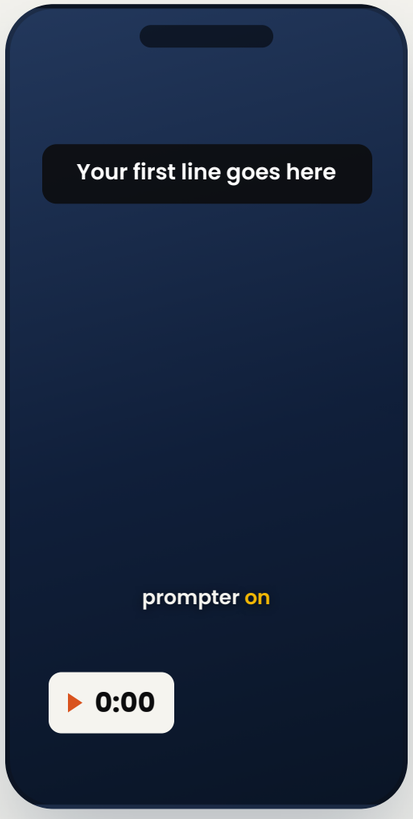

Phone out. Set up, then record one.

01 Open the Vubli app, same account. Connect Instagram, Facebook, YouTube, LinkedIn.

02 Paste your five scripts in as ideas. One idea each.

03 Pick the one you'd actually say out loud. Front camera, prompter on, one take, sixty seconds.

04 Let it cut. Read the copy once. Schedule it for tomorrow. The script is written and the app is set up. Record it.

Comment the word, get the tool. Boost only what has proved itself.

REEL ENDS: "COMMENT ROUNDS" → MANYCHAT DMS THE LINK → UNGATED TOOL PAGE →

"WANT THE NEXT ONE EMAILED? BEST EMAIL?" → "WHAT ARE YOU WORKING ON AT THE MOMENT?"

The magnets

Forty-plus Field Guides, free on the site, each one answering a question a buyer asks. One keyword per guide. The email ask comes after they have the thing.

The spend

Post organically with the keyword. Let it prove itself. Then boost the same post, so the automation keeps running on it. Small daily cap for a week, then read the DMs.

Live now

The 43,300 reel, boosted at A$30 a day for seven days. Set up on the desktop, not in the app, so Apple's cut doesn't come off the budget. The measure is conversations started, not views.

The ad test, read on 28 October.

Ads Manager, 28 Oct	Follower campaign	Boost on the revision-rounds reel
What it is	Nine reels picked for follows per view, "visit profile", Australia, 1% lookalike of people who've engaged with the account	The one reel that went, boosted from the desktop
Running since	23 Oct, A$25 a day	26 Oct, A$30 a day for seven days
Spent so far	A$152.82	A$66.51
Reached	3,291	4,326
Profile visits	169 (A$0.90 each)	421 (A$0.16 each)
Follows credited	4 (about A$38 each)	8 (about A$8 each)
DM conversations	3	3

Follower campaign: 23 to 28 October. Boost: 26 to 28 October, so three days of seven. Meta's own attribution, not a tracker.

Success line, set before spend: under A$2 a follow after seven days. Not met, follows are about A$38; the A$500 stop rule isn't reached. The 7 November gate: two or more business-problem replies keep the follower campaign running, one earns another week if follows come in under A$2, none stops it.

How a keyword comment becomes a conversation.

COMMENT ROUNDS → DM: "YES, SEND THEM" → THE TOOL, NO GATE →

"WANT THE NEXT ONE EMAILED? BEST EMAIL?" → "WHAT ARE YOU WORKING ON AT THE MOMENT?" → I REPLY BY HAND

Five keywords, one flow each

ROUNDS, PRICE, PAID, QUOTE, GUIDES. ROUNDS and GUIDES also fire on DMs and story replies; the other three fire on comments only, so an old reel keeps working. GUIDES is the one that asks for the email before the link. The email is built to land in the CRM with the keyword as its source. No email after thirty minutes: the link again, no fuss, and the same question.

New followers get the same door

Five minutes after a follow, where Instagram's beta fires it, a DM: the guides are free, want the link? Then the link, then "What are you working on at the moment?" That's how an ad follower meets the question without ever commenting.

What the first build did

The ROUNDS reel: 268 keyword fires by 15 October, 180 new ManyChat contacts in one day. The first version of the automation, before the email ask existed: 274 runs, 138 sends, 126 link clicks. Every typed reply lands on a desk I answer from, not in a sequence.

11 THE CLOSE

The loop, one more time.

CALLS → SCRIPTS → RECORD → PUBLISH → LOG → WINNERS → SPEND

> What did a client say to you this week that your whole market needs to hear?
>
> That's Thursday's first script.
